PLOT TO STIR REVOLT IN INDIA IS FOMENTED IN BAY CITIES, CHARGE

*Morgan-Pennoyer
Romance Is Told
Daughter of Financier to Be Bride*

Announcement of the engagement of Miss Frances T. Morgan, daughter of J. Pleasant Morgan, son of the late A. A. Pennoyer, Oakland merchant, reached friends and relatives of the Oakland man today. The romance, according to the announcement from New York, was the culmination of a friendship that started when Pennoyer and Junius Morgan, older brother of Miss Morgan, were college mates in Harvard.

Pennoyer is a brother of Richard E. Pennoyer, a graduate of the state university with the class of 1910, and now in the American embassy at London. While he never attended the University of California, he was a frequent visitor at the Psi Upsilon house in Berkeley, being a member of that fraternity.

Miss Morgan is the third child of the noted capitalist. Her brother, Junius S. Morgan, is the oldest of the children, and her sister, Jane N. Morgan, the second. Henry S. Morgan is her younger brother. She is a niece of Mrs. Mabel L. Satterlee, Mrs. William Pearson Hamilton and Miss Ann Morgan.

Mrs. Virginia Pennoyer, mother of the prospective bridegroom, is to leave shortly for the East to meet her future daughter-in-law. She is the widow of A. A. Pennoyer, of the firm of Taff & Pennoyer, and is prominent in Oakland and San Francisco society. The family home is at 2400 Piedmont avenue.

Paul Pennoyer spent last summer in Berkeley. He is a brother of Sheldon Pennoyer, the artist, who is now a student at the Philadelphia Academy of Fine Arts. No date for the wedding has been announced.

S.F. WOMAN KILLS SELF AND LAWYER

Letter Is Clew to Death of Timothy Lyons in Hotel

Found in Gas-Filled
Room

SAN FRANCISCO, April 20.—Timothy J. Lyons, prominent attorney with offices in the Pacific building, was found asphyxiated together with Mrs. Anna McPherson, known as Anna Diamond, a clairvoyant and medium in the woman's room at a lodging house at 1144 Market street this morning.

Lyons and Mrs. McPherson had quarreled and he had requested her to leave San Francisco. She declared he had promised to marry her in a conversation with the landlady of the house, but had later refused, and she expressed the belief that he was only trying to make his sister-in-law jealous in order that he might be let out of his court.

Lyons was a widower and resided in the Jordan tract. When Chief Deputy Coroner Joseph Kelly reached the scene of the tragedy, the Enterprise Hotel, Mrs. McPherson was lying dead in bed. # PAVE WAY FOR MEXICAN WITHDRAWAL EL PASO, Texas, April 20.—Villa passed through Troya, about twenty-five miles east of Parral, two days before the engagement between Americanos and Carranza troops, reports received here today said.

WASHINGTON, April 20.—To lay a ground work for the withdrawal of American troops from Mexico, is believed today to be the object of General Hugh Scott's trip to army headquarters at San Antonio. The hunt for Francisco Villa is at a standstill. General Frederick Funston wants to enlarge the expedition, and the Parral incident showed the danger of further operations. These facts are understood to have made General Scott deem the trip necessary.

Carranza's suggestion the Americans withdraw will probably be answered soon. Ambassador Arredondo said today that he had not demanded an immediate withdrawal of United States forces.

Official advices to the State Department today noting recent movements of Carranza troops from Chihuahua to the Parral region caused concern among the administration officials. The dispatches expressed the opinion that the movement was started at a hint of the American forces that they might expect at least a show of opposition if they sought to penetrate further into Mexico than their present position. It was added, however, that there was every indication that the movement was made without the knowledge of General Carranza.

No estimates as to the number of men involved was communicated. Officials here, however, basing their figures on previous reports as to the strength of various Carranza garrisons in the vicinity, believe it could not exceed 1500 men. According to the dispatches it was the purpose of the commander who ordered the move to establish the force south of the most advanced position of General Pershing's troops near Parral.

Reports today from Admiral Winslow on the west coast indicate the Carranza forces in Sonora state have renewed campaigns against Yaqui Indian outlaws in an effective way. In a battle April 13 near Agua Calientes ranch, forty-seven Indians were killed. Twenty-three Carranza soldiers were killed and wounded. Another clash in which 100 Indians were killed and 200 Indian women and children taken prisoners by the Carranza forces was reported to have occurred a few days later at La Virgen.

The dispatches confirmed reports of the release of two American women, members of the Lehr family, who had been held prisoners by the Yaquis.

Retreat Expected to Bring Danger

EL PASO, April 20.—While the American punitive expedition is marking time today in its pursuit of Francisco Villa, efforts are being made to strengthen the army bases and lines of communication. Fears are openly expressed by army officers that should an order come to withdraw the American troops, the Villa and other marauding bands will raise the cry that the American troops are in retreat, with the result that the American army will be subject to constant attacks and sniping as they return from Mexico.

To prevent such warfare against his columns, General Pershing is preparing to be in a position to move his forces in large units. If necessary General Pershing may call upon some of the new troops that Major-General Funston has recently transferred to the army base at Columbus, N. M. The bellicose general at Fort Bliss that the United States troops will encounter more difficulties in a withdrawal from Mexico than they did on their rapid 400-mile drive from Columbus to Parral.

No word has come from General Cavazos, who with Colonel Carranza, was reported to have gone to San Francisco Borda to bring back the body of Villa. Officers of the Juarez garrison fear that General Cavazos has been led into trap and he and his command ambushed.

A dispatch from Chihuahua today says that the Parral district is quiet and that Villa is not dead, but has passed far south into Durango, many miles from the nearest American column, now reeling at a point near Parral.

REVOLT IN INDIA THWARTED, CLAIM NATION COMMENT

and other alleged machinations were discovered there the group, according to authorities in London, set sail for Manila aboard the China.

Leaders of this group are said to have been in the thirty-eight taken by the Laurentine. It is claimed that they had in their possession false passports which they destroyed. It is also claimed that among the men making for America or Manila as well as a number of German from the German ships interned in Shanghai and other Chinese ports.

That the plot is still a menace to the allies is information given out by officials, who say that much of its ramifications have not been traced and that it exists today. They state that enough is known, however, to check any possibility of trouble in India.

HINT IS GIVEN.

At the time of the state department's protest Great Britain replied that the subjects seized were engaged in unneutral service, shifting a Taunton base of operations to Manila from Shanghai, but gave no further details.

The case was likened in the press to that of the French cruiser Despartes.

The China line runs the China as the only big steamer on the Pacific-Orient run flying the American flag.

Other lines, either British or Japanese, controlled, refuse to carry Germans from the Far East into British Columbia or the United States.

At the offices of the German consul, neither Franz Bopp, the consul, nor Vice-consul Ernest von Schack could be led to discuss the charges.

Von Igel Papers Expose Spy System

NEW YORK, April 20.—The documents seized by federal authorities in the office of Von Igel, return of which has been demanded by Count Von Bernstorff, the German ambassador, remain today in a safe in the office of the United States district attorney. District Attorney Mayer has sent to Washington photographic copies of all of them in order that the German ambassador may determine which are official records of the embassy.

Another demand for the return of the papers was made today upon U. S. District Attorney Marshall by J. S. Stanchfield, the defendant's attorney.

The district attorney said that Stanchfield had maintained that Von Igel's office (formerly that of Captain Von Papen, recalled German military attaché), was in effect German territory and that the intrusion of the United States agents constituted an "invasion." Marshall said that he replied that the matter rested for decision with the Washington authorities; meantime he had no alternative but to proceed with the case.

Persons who have seen the papers say they do not believe Count Von Bernstorff will admit that any are official records.

The papers are described as constituting "the largest haul" made by the government since the activities of the agents of the central powers in this country were first uncovered.

As a result of the seizure of these papers, it was said today, the complete operations of an alleged Teuton spy system in America will be revealed, including the names of the leading directors of the plots to destroy commerce and of men who obtained secret information for that purpose.

U. S. Attorney Marshall said that even if it should be proved that the papers are valuable to the German embassy the government will contend for the right to inspect them, and if necessary use any which are not presumed to be official embassy documents.

It is reported that the contents of some of the documents have been communicated to a federal grand jury.

Von Igel is held on bail to answer to the charge of complicity in the Welland canal plot.

American Arrested in Bomb Plot Probe

NEW YORK, April 20.—A man described as Harry T. Newton, an expert mechanic and a native-born American, was arrested today by the police who declared that he had entered into an agreement with a supposed German, in reality a detective to blow up a submarine plant at Dunkirk, New York, and had offered to do other work of a similar character.

Long Suffering Woman Revolts

For twenty-six years Edward Dobbin was the master of his house in South Berkeley. During that time he beat his wife Matilda frequently, she alleges, and she bore his discipline without revolt.

Then one day the spirit of feminism arose within her, and she sued him for a divorce. During the year before her decree became final he continued to beat her, she says, and since she was not yet wedded, she submitted, as had been her wont for twenty-six years. But the divorce was granted about a week ago, and she told Edward the house was now hers, and he must get out.

Was she not divorced—and therefore free?

But Edward simply would not. In fact, he dared to raise his hand against her, it seems, but only to finally give him time to do so. She had stood for his blows for twenty-six years because she was his wife, but now.

She fell on Edward like an independent person, and vanquished him in a trice. She put him out in the street with his countenance marred up. And Edward, having sought a doctor, to whom he told his woes, is not going back to the house any more, according to Mrs. Dobbin.

Haufman Bids Mayor and City Goodbye

George Kaufman, who has been known in Oakland for many months as Mayor John J. Davis' advisor, visited the city all today to say farewell to some of his friends. He announced that he will leave for New York.

Kaufman and his wife have been guests at the Hotel Oakland, and Kaufman has been a frequent member of conferences on political and business affairs in Oakland since he came here last summer.

dress and had been suffocated. It is presumed that he awoke in a sort of stupor realizing that he must get away but had failed.

Mrs. McPherson registered as Anna Diamond from Oakland on Tuesday, April 11. A letter addressed "To whom it may concern," reads in part:

"Do not know what may happen to me. My friend, or afflity, Timothy J. Lyons, Pacific building, who here last night, Sunday and Monday (11-12 a.m. We quibled. He told me I could not stay in San Francisco, and the sooner I got away the better. Life is sad for a lone woman. When a man of Mr. Lyons' standing tires of her, then he can do as he pleases. I am Timothy J. Lyons over a year ago, but December. We were friends for some months then his sister-in-law went to Honolulu. Her name is Lilly Kenney, 2678 Pine street. He came to see me for a reading. He was anxious about his sister-in-law and a southern gentleman she also kept company with.

"CANNOT FORGET."

"So when she returned from her trip she was cruel to him. She would not see him or go with him any place. I don't blame her, if she had more pleasant company for he is a Lyon by name and a lion by nature. At times he is a Dr. Jekyll and Mr. Hyde."

"For all that I love him better than I love anything on earth. I have prayed to God to forget him. I cannot. When he is good there is not a nicer man living. When he tires of you he is a demon. He does everything to tease you. He told me after the fair was over we would travel and if he did not marry me he would never marry anybody else. I was satisfied to be his afflity to my sorrow. New Year's, 1916, brought me nothing but trouble. Lilly Kenney went to his son's for dinner. He was there and made up with her. He told me his sister-in-law was jealous of me. She thought I was some rich widow from Boston. He always introduced me as Mrs. A. McPherson. He did not want his friends to know I was Anna Diamond, a poor medium.

"After he came from his country home in July he would stay night and night at my house until 5 a.m., and then he would take the car home. He always stayed with me until noon Sunday. He can deceive anyone with his pretty language, but God will punish him, and how his proud head low. I am not the first unfortunate poor woman he has ruined. He told me of a poor woman who committed suicide about two years ago. He has her coral bracelet that he bought for her."

"He has been very kind to me at times. He took me everywhere. He took me to Mr. Bryan's reception. He introduced me to a man who introduced me to Mr. Bryan. Mr. Lyons introduced me as Mrs. Lyons."

Mrs. McPherson complaisant in the course of her letter that Lyons' son had told him that he had better not be seen with her. She says she left San Francisco and went to Sacramento and later to Oakland, finally returning here.

From her letter it would indicate that her real name may be Diamond, although she told the hotel people that was her business name and that she was Mrs. Anna McPherson.

Lyons resided at 27 Jordan avenue. At his office in the Pacific building it was stated that he had not been there this morning and was in Judge Green's court. Nothing apparently was known there of Miss Diamond.

The familiar poem, "When Loveliest Woman Stoops to Folly," was found on a table among some letter paper and the letters in a satchel containing Mrs. McPherson's jewelry and money. All were stamped and it is evident that she planned suicide. The fact that both gas jets were turned fully on and the position of Lyons' body would indicate that she had resolved to kill him and herself at the same time.

Lyons' wife died three years ago. He has one son, Reardon T. Lyons, a real estate broker of 417 Montgomery street.

Besides letters to the newspapers and to the coroner, Mrs. McPherson left an epistle for Lilly Kenney, Lyons' sister-in-law, of whom she was apparently jealous. In which she takes her rival to task and informs her that she would not care so much for Lyons if she knew of his affairs and his conversations regarding her.

Lyons was considered an authority on probate matters and is rated one of the city's most successful of practitioners in that branch of the law.

Widow's Companion Is Sentenced for Vagrancy

Archie Fairholm, 28-year-old companion of Mrs. Faunie Wolcott, wealthy Fresno widow, 45 years old, with whom she was arrested a week ago on an arson charge, was sentenced to a ninety-day term in the city prison by Police Judge George Samuels today. Fairholm pleaded guilty to a charge of vagrancy, the plea reducing the charge from arson. Mrs. Wolcott has been released from custody.

Charles E. Hughes will be printed on the Oregon Republican primary ballot as a candidate for the nomination for President of the United States, despite his express request that it be omitted.

This was the decision of the Oregon Supreme Court, when it handed down a general opinion from the bench ordering Secretary of State O'leary to place Justice Hughes' name on the ballot as prayed for in the application filed by Wallace McCamant of Portland, for issuance of writ of mandamus against the secretary.

The court, in announcing its decision, did not give reasons, and these will be contained in the opinion to be handed down later.

MUST FIGHT CHARGE

Raymond E. Pullman and Edward Carson were held to answer to the superior court on charges of burglary by Police Judge Mortimer Smith today. Pullman is alleged to have robbed the home of Daniel Dudley, 1837 Seventh avenue, on the night of April 8, while Carson is accused of having entered the residence of Mrs. R. Schindler, 516 Tenth street, on the same night. Both, according to the police, are ex-convicts.

House Will Win in Sugar Conference

WASHINGTON, April 20.—The triumph of the House in the sugar conference was interpreted today as forecasting a substantial victory for Representative Ray's army bill over Senator Chamberlain's military measure. Although the Senate had President Wilson's support for a suspension instead of repeat of the free sugar bill, the House proved itself to be the dominant branch. A conference on the military bill began today.

TWO YEARS' PRORATION.

Two years' probation, during which time no large bills of salvo are to be entered, was the sentence which Police Judge Mortimer Smith passed to Jerry O'Kyrion, Ernest Benson, Jose Antone and Alfonso Mello today.

The four boys pleaded guilty to having administered a beating to Patrolman O. B. Watson when he attempted to arrest Mello a week ago.

The property which her son and nephew are now seeking to recover is valued at more than $200,000. Charles Dowd is connected with the Golden West Motor Company in San Francisco. His mother lives at 105 Sunnyside avenue, where she expects to remain until her death and she expects from a business trip to Arizona.

Mrs. Dowd married James Denny in Fresno, April, in 1901. They came to California and later Denny, then following his occupation of mining and railroading, returned to Arizona in search of employment. His wife heard nothing from him for several years and although she made diligent search for some clue to his whereabouts, her efforts were fruitless and in 1906 she married William S. Smith, a grocer of Alendale.

IS DIVORCED.

But she did not find the happiness that she sought in her third husband and in 1910 she sued for and obtained a divorce on the grounds of cruelty. Since then she has resided in Sunnyside Avenue with her children.

Recently Miss Mary Dowd wrote to friends in Arizona, where the family formerly lived, and inquired if they ever had heard of Jim Denny, relating the circumstances of his disappearance. The friend replied that she knew Denny well and that she had given him the message from his step-daughter. Denny resided for Oakland since. There was a family reunion and immediate preparations for the re-marriage. It was the fourth ceremony for Mrs. Dowd, who is 52 years of age. Denny is 44.

While Denny has found riches in his wife also has prospects of riches. In event the suit commenced in his behalf results in the trial he will be richly rewarded.

Alaskan Delegates to Leave Uninstructed

SEWARD, Alaska, April 20.—The Republican territorial convention, which met here yesterday, decided that Alaska's two delegates to the Republican national convention were to be uninstructed. A motion to instruct the delegates by Theodore Roosevelt was defeated. Lewis P. Shadlock of Juneau and William A. Gilmore of Nome, were elected as delegates to the national convention. C. D. Murane was recommended for national committeeman.

When the convention recessed yesterday the delegates were undecided as to whom they should nominate for territorial delegate to Congress. One of the first acts of the convention was to send a cablegram to Delegate Jas. Wickensham at Washington asking him if he would agree to uphold the platform which the convention will adopt later, but no reply had been received.

The convention was to meet again tonight, when it was hoped that Delegate Wickensham's answer would be available.

George Schofield of Nome was nominated for territorial attorney-general.

Free Sugar Clause to Get Quick Action

WASHINGTON, April 20.—Legislation repealing the free sugar clause, the tariff, which was to have been effective May 1 next, will be enacted immediately by Congress.

This was decided upon at a caucus of Senate Democrats last night, when they voted to accept the House report of the Senate substitute providing for the retention of the existing duty on a rent a pound on sugar until 1920. As a result the present duty will be continued indefinitely.

Republican Committee Finds Understanding of Earl Attempt Increases.

As the date of the primary approaches, Republican leaders who have made a canvass of the situation throughout the state report that there is every indication that the voters are behind the regular party candidates for delegates to the national convention. At the headquarters of the Republican State Central Committee advice is received daily of the response to the call of the party, and everything is being done to make clear the factional interests behind the Earl hydro-electric ticket.

"We urge the voters of this state to consider every move that has been made by the state administration," said the campaign committee, "and to note the close connection there is between the plan of Republican party smashing that was attempted last year by Governor Johnson and the appearance in this Presidential primary campaign of a faction which sprung from the call of Guy C. Earl, who has been an adviser of the state administration machine in Alameda county for years. Now he steps into the limelight as the directing organizer of the Earl faction, which proposes under the thin disguise of 'United Republicans' to dictate whether the Republican party shall be permitted to name a Republican delegation to its own national convention."

The California Woman's Regular Republican League has completed the program for a mass meeting which will be held this afternoon at 3 o'clock in the Rose room, St. Francis hotel, and open to all women. The speakers will be Edward Berwick on "The Power of Women in Civic Affairs"; Judge George H. Taham on "State and National Suffrage"; and Mrs. Florence Richland, president of the league, who will address the assemblage on the slogan of the league, "Women of California, Stand by the Regular Republicans, who have endorsed National Suffrage." Special music will be given by the Oulahan Quartet.

Raisin Day Program In San Joaquin Valley

FRESNO, April 20.—California invites the world to Fresno on April 28, to celebrate California Raisin Day, which is recognized as more than a State festival.

A two-day celebration has been arranged for this year. On April 28 the festival will take place while the following day, the Raisin Day, the State Irrigation Association will stage an automobile race over a seven mile track. Prizes amounting to $6000, besides the raisin classic trophy, have been offered and it is expected the entire list will exceed that.

Fresno expects to be home to 100,000 visitors on Raisin Day and for the races.

In the morning there will be a general march of the 100,000 in the San Joaquin valley will send queens and at the present date there are sufficient floats entered to make the street parade four miles long.

General Johnson and Mrs. Johnson, besides many notables of the State, have accepted the invitations to visit Fresno on California Raisin Day.

750,000,000 Barrels of Oil in Public Domain

WASHINGTON, April 20.—The Senate public lands committee had before it today for its information a confirmation from Secretary Lane in which he states the petroleum content of the public domain is 750,000,000 barrels.

The area of oil-bearing lands in public ownership is placed at approximately 3,000,000 acres, most of which is in Utah, Wyoming, California and Montana, with small acreages in Arizona, Colorado, North Dakota and Louisiana.

In addition mention is made of the two naval petroleum reserves in California and Wyoming, embracing a total of nearly fifty thousand acres.

Department Puts O. K. on Land Grant Bill

WASHINGTON, April 20.—The Oregon California land grant bill which the House committee on public lands prepared has received the approval of the departments of Justice, Agriculture and Interior and will be introduced in Congress today or tomorrow.

By its provisions the government obtaining title to 2,500,000 acres of unclaimed land contained in the original grant.

The land is classified as water power sites, mineral, agricultural and timber and is planned to divide the proceeds, giving one-half to the local authorities, one-half to the reclamation service and one-tenth to the federal government. After the timber is removed the land will be opened for homesteading.

Charles E. Hughes will be printed on the Oregon Republican primary ballot as a candidate for the nomination for President of the United States, despite his express request that it be omitted.

PICKPOCKETS ACTIVE.

Pickpockets robbed two on Oakland street cars last night. H. A. Whiting, a member of the State railroad commission, and a resident of San Francisco, told the police that a diamond studed watch charm had been taken from him as he rode on a car of the Diamond line. It is valued at $150. A diamond brooch, valued at $75, was taken from the person of Mrs. Edie Field, 516 Fifty-third street, while on a San Pablo avenue car last night.

Comedian Amuses At Pantages Theater

Don't Stay Gray! Nobody Can Tell When You Darken Gray, Faded Hair With Sage Tea and Sulphur.

Grandmother kept her hair beautiful, darkened, glossy and attractive with a brew of Sage Tea and Sulphur. Whenever her hair took on that dull, faded or streaked appearance, this simple mixture was applied with wonderful effect. By asking at any drug store for "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound," you will get a large bottle of this old-time recipe, improved by the addition of other ingredients, all ready to use, for about 50 cents. This simple mixture can be depended upon to restore natural color and beauty to the hair.

A well-known downtown druggist says everybody uses Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound now, because it darkens so naturally and evenly that nobody can tell if it has been applied. "It's so easy to use, too. You simply dampen a comb or soft brush and draw it through your hair, taking a strand at a time. By morning the gray hair disappears; after another application or two, it is restored to its natural color and looks glossy, soft and beautiful. This preparation is a delightful toilette article. It is not intended for the cure, mitigation or prevention of disease."—Advertisement.

HINTS FOR AUTO OWNERS

Motoring Department. The TRIBUNE's own 1915 Hispano and has had battery trouble. Some one suggested that I put in a magneto. Will this give more power to the car? Would like to avoid the expense of a magneto. Do you think that dry cells would overcome difficulties? J. B.

If the storage battery is in good condition and the electrical system properly adjusted, you should experience no difficulty in starting ignition. A majority of modern cars employ the battery system with excellent results.

The magneto is good and very reliable, but it hardly seems necessary to entail the expense of installing a magneto in your car.

Perhaps some defect in the wiring system is causing the trouble. Dry cells are not satisfactory for ignition purposes.

Motoring Department. The TRIBUNE's Am driving a —— and when I am in use keep car jacked up, putting the jack under housing of differential. Please advise if this causes too much strain at this point. J. L.

The axle housing should certainly be strong enough to support the weight of the car. This should not be done, however, with ears of the heavier type. It is better to jack up on both sides of the axle.

Motoring Department. The TRIBUNE kindly advise me of a good way to store the freshens to a mohair top (1914 model) after the dirt has been brushed off. S. J.

The top should be brushed briskly with a stiff brush. When this is done it should be sponged thoroughly with soap and water. Plenty of soap suds and energetic sponging should clean it efficiently. Further than this, nothing can be done without destroying the rainproof quality of the cloth.

Motoring Department. The TRIBUNE: Have a car with four-cylinder engine which runs smooth but makes a clicking noise. Am unable to locate trouble. P. C.

The clicking noise may be due to loose valves. Quite often if these are adjusted more tightly the noise will be reduced. You may find that the noise is due to the side thrust of the valve push rods. When these become worn a side snap may be developed as the cam hits the roller of the push rod. The cam motion in water pump or starter coupling will cause a click. Perhaps you may find, on close inspection, one of the coupling heads loose or pinned to shaft, but work looks all times.

ORPHEUM

Calve's love of the mysterious is well known, and it is from that love the Calve has been called superstitious.

Perhaps she is, but those who know Calve best are inclined to think that Calve's studies of things that are weird and strange are responsible, more than anything else, for certain little peculiarities, which, for lack of a better word the uninitiated, are called superstitions.

Occasionally a critic is keen-eyed enough to notice that there is a common-music diva in the waist of the vaudeville diva who is to appear at the Orpheum next Sunday, and occasionally a writer comments on the fact that this rose seems to be out of place with the remainder of the great prima donna's immaculate attire. No matter how cautiously one writes of this cheap red rose, Calve continues to wear it and she will probably wear it as long as she sings a note.

When she made her vaudeville debut at the Palace Theater, New York, a few months ago, many of her admirers marveled at the rose and, perhaps thinking the diva was unable to find anything better of the desired shade, they tried their own hand at duplicating the rose in the highest priced silks.

Many silk carnation roses reached Calve. She said nothing except a word of appreciation, and then she put the silk roses aside. The stage found her, as ever, with the cheap cotton rose in her waist.

Is she superstitious? Well, Calve will not say it is, and who is there who would dare disagree with the great Carmen? Calve won't talk about it. The rose is a mystery but there is well grounded belief that it is one that was made for her and presented to her by a most humble peasant in the Cevennes.

The story goes a little further. The peasant is said to be of a family well known to Calve in her early days, for the great prima donna in rather proud of the fact that she is of the peasant stock. It is also thought that the artificial flower is now indeed as worn almost to rags, was given Calve the day she made Carmen famous.

There the story ends. Of course it has been given some fanciful twists from time to time, but the above outline always remains. Behind the rose, however, may be sentiment or tragedy, or even comedy, but Calve won't tell, and the red rose—the cheap, worn, faded rose—remains bereft of its true history—just a Calve superstition.

JUANITA HANSEN, WITH KOLB & DILL, COMING TO THE MACDONOUGH IN "GLORY," THEIR FIRST FILM COMEDY, NEXT WEEK.

MACDONOUGH

For the first time in ten years the renowned Burton Holmes "Travelogues" are being presented in Oakland and the latest word of the distinguished traveler, photographer and lecturer is that he will make an engagement at the Macdonough Theater on Saturday night. Matinees are being given daily at 2:15 and every evening at 8:15 as well as a special matinee at 4 p. m. for school children at reduced prices.

There are countless thousands of adults and children in this country who never visit a motion-picture theater except for the purpose of seeing educational and travelogues, and the audience is equally of seeing a program of Burton Holmes "Travelogues" and hearing the delightful "travel talks" that accompany the pictures, always result in crowded houses. The engagement is for a few weeks, after which the Columbia Theater in San Francisco enjoyed a week of Burton Holmes "Travelogues," thousands were unable to secure seats in the keeping of the public to enjoy an "easy chair world trip" with the noted traveler and his assistants.

The famous little English comedian brought to Oakland to head the new comedy motion picture studio Manager Pantages is starting, is indeed a remarkable offering. He is supreme among laughers, or rather the pictures he makes never says a word and yet more and more laughs than any "talking" comedian in the business. That's why Chris Richards made good, and why his appearance at the Pantages this week is a red letter event in the calendar world. Chris Richards is in a class by himself—and then some.

This week is a big week anyhow, out-of-the-line limber and laughable Chris, Michael Dunn, the noted Irish comic, offers a charming bit of fun and entertainment in "A Glimpse of Old Ireland," and a few trained acrobats, a dog, some Irish crows and other queer Irish pets add still more color and comedy. The act is not a picture, but a series of sketches, the Seven Brides, notable among acrobats, and one of the few acrobatic acts that is given headline position. These clever ladies literally begin where others leave off—sorceresses when packed by four, single file—all that sort of impossible thing.

Frank Gable, cattlemen and rope artist, presents Diana, famous dancer, and Octoza, the Peruvian marvel, in a wonderful success. "Playing the Pianoforte" will be by Bud Fisher, and Dunn has a supply of rapid fire songs. Violet and Charles, trapeze artists, and "The Seven Brides," a film sensation, round out the bill.

Madame Makarenko, famous Russian dancer, in a wonderful spectacle, "The Dream of the Orient," a queer, exotic entertainment, the creation of Mauls Allan, Bertrude, actress, and Eddie Fisher, a big feature of the coming week.

The De Michele Brothers, artists and musicians; Edward Farrell & Co. in "After the Wedding," a snappy sketch, and other big acts are also scheduled.

PANTAGES

Chris Richards is in Oakland. That's the reason laughter is king at the Oakland Pantages this week, that joy is unrestrained and effervescent and that record-breaking crowds are attending matinees.

FRANKLIN

The current bill at the Franklin is splendid from beginning to end—variety a-plenty, drama, comedy, thrillers, toons and news pictures. "The Raiders," an Ince-Triangle production, is the featured number of the program, although it is closely seconded by "Fatty" Arbuckle's "The Devil's Valetante," a Keystone comedy, and Bud Fisher's animated cartoons of Mutt and Jeff.

H. B. Warner, who was soon in the original stage production of "Alas Jimmy Valentine," is featured. He is a clean-cut and attractive hero and wears his role like a glove. Of Dorothy Dalton, the heroine, the same may be said.

Roscoe Arbuckle cuts a lot of amusing capers in "Alas Jimmy Valentine."

He really is a male show-off, and yet not yet that he does so intelligently informed that there is no evidence of effort. To the contrary, it has the appearance of spontaneously so rare in comedy of any kind.

"Jeff's Toothache," drawn by Bud Fisher, creator of Mutt and Jeff, is an excellent cartoon comedy, containing funny drawings, a funny plot and the two best characters. Mr. Fisher has masterfully and effectively conformed him when he decided to do the same in an exhaustive style. His cartoons are rapid in action, smooth in execution, void of any straining, jumpliness, and what is rare, they are clean-cut. And when you picture the same Mutt and Jeff that you see in the newspaper cartoons, Jeff's Toothache is a genuine laugh-producer. The Selig Tribune news pictures and the music of the orchestra and pipe organ complete the bill. The basic balanced bill that has been seen at the Franklin for some time.

OAKLAND PHOTO

Anita King, the Paramount girl supported by Victor Moore, the author and creator of "Charming Fashion," was presented for the first time at the Oakland Photo Theater yesterday in an exciting matinee.

Anita King was the first person man or woman, to cross the North American continent alone. "The Race," a three thousand and miles dash for riches and honor, was founded on Miss King's trans-continental trip.

The race was run in the country supported by the famous and the playboys. During the filming of "The Race" they had to take so many risks that the betting was two to one that the principals would not live to see the first two days of the race.

In one of which Miss King, driving one of Barney Oldfield's racers, skidded on a slippery street and slew a "40."

As the other feature of this double program, there is a dramatic actress Marquette Snow is presented in "The Corner in Cotton," a romantic and thrilling story of Wall street, society and plantations of the sunny Southland.

Those who are accustomed to feel dull and heavy when we arise, splitting headache, stuffy from a cold, foul tongue, nasty breath, acid stomach, lame back, can, instead, both look and feel as fresh as a daisy, always by washing the poisons and toxins from the body with phosphated hot water each morning.

We should drink, before breakfast, glass of real hot water with a tea-spoonful of limestone phosphate in it to flush from the stomach, liver, kidneys and ten yards of bowels the previous day's indigestible waste, sour bile and poisonous toxins; thus cleansing, sweetening and purifying the entire alimentary tract before putting more food into the stomach.

The action of limestone phosphate and hot water on an empty stomach is wonderfully invigorating. It cleanses out all the sour fermentations, gases waste and acidity and gives one a splendid appetite for breakfast and it is said to be a little while until the roses begin to appear in the cheeks.

A quarter pound of limestone phosphate will cost very little at the drug store, but is sufficient to make anyone who is bothered with bilious constipation, stomach trouble or rheumatism a real enthusiast on the subject of internal sanitation.

Try it and you are assured that you will look better and feel better in every way shortly.—Advertisement.

Super-Jealous
Wife Poses
As Death
For Sculptor

LOS ANGELES, April 20.—Lucia Romaneill, the lines of whose patrician, sadly-sweet face have formed the motif for many of the studies of her noted sculptor husband, Carlo Romaneill, posed as "Death" yesterday in her husband's studio at 307 North Main street.

From on the floor, blood flowing from a self-inflicted cut in her left wrist, she held tightly with her right hand to a rope stretched over a ceiling beam, the other end forming a loop around her neck.

She had entered the studio in an idle hour, and when her husband came upon her, apparently lifeless, he rushed to the street with wild cries of "Police" and "Murder." Neighbors telephoned for an ambulance. When the police machine drove up with clangor going, Mrs. Romaneill stepped from the restraint of her draped blouse, threw the noose from about her neck, tore open the heavy door door and ran like a deer toward their home at 212 South Thomas street, several blocks away.

MILD TREATMENT.

The ambulance caught her up, her and the police on the way to the receiving hospital, where it was found that she was in need of no further treatment than a light bandage on the wrist. She refused to explain her motive for the deed, and her husband has said she showed no signs of insanity.

Romaneill has two children, Belinda, her nine-year-old daughter, and Carlo, junior, three years old, were unscathed.

Romaneill was equally reticent, except to say that his wife was frequently overcome with homesickness for her people in Detroit, and friends in Chicago, where they were among the most prominent people in the artist's colony four years before coming here two years ago.

Friends, however, said that Mrs. Romaneill's "death pose" was but the latest in a long series of sensational episodes which have given the sculptor a decided to distraction, and broken up nearly every art class, which he has formed here.

DRIVES MODEL OUT.

One friend said:

"Mrs. Romaneill, besides being of a highly temperamental disposition, might be called neurotic. She has it almost impossible for Romaneill to keep a female model for his classes. Only yesterday I understand, she broke up one of his advanced classes, driving the model from the platform into the back yard. And there were only the more recent of such events."

Romaneill came here two years ago to execute a commission involving a considerable amount of work for a local motion picture studio. Mrs. Romaneill is the daughter of Hugo German parents, although born in Detroit, and as a girl is said to have showed much promise in art. She kept up her studies a number of years after her marriage, making several trips to Europe with her husband.

OLD LOVE PROVES BEST:

WIFE WANTS $25,000.

SAN PEDRO, April 20.—Alleging that after two score years of married life, she was finally supplanted by her husband's former sweetheart, Mrs. Sarah E. Lewis, has filed in the Superior court a $25,000 alienation of affections suit against Mary Reynolds of San Pedro.

According to the complaint, Sarah E. Lewis and John A. Lewis were married Sept. 1, 1894. After a year of wedlock, the defendant, conceiving and harboring an intense dislike for the plaintiff, wrongfully and maliciously sought to prejudice the mind of said John A. Lewis against his wife, and has ever since sought and endeavored by subtle contrivances, by coaxing and by threats to induce him to separate himself from the plaintiff."

As a result of the "subtle contrivances" it is alleged, Lewis painted Mary Reynolds' house, and did it for nothing, and, while he was painting the house, he didn't come home and his wife was three days without food.

It is further asserted that Lewis is "hanging about" the other woman's house "great deal night and day." Mrs. Lewis says she has seen him helping the other woman wash dishes and has seen them together in the yard of the latter's home.

For some time, it is charged, the other woman has been getting a part of Lewis' earnings, and, as a result, Mrs. Lewis says she has been forced to vacate her home because of non-payment of rent and the gas and lights were shut off. She has tried to argue with Mary Reynolds. She says, but on each occasion the other has ordered her away from her home.

ATTACKS HUSBAND:

WILL NOT EXPLAIN.

REDWOOD CITY, April 20.—Mrs. Elizabeth D. Johnson, who, with the aid of four of her married daughters, last night entered the home of her husband, from whom she has been separated for twenty years, attacked Johnson and his maid, Mrs. Dora Jane, upon his arrival at 7 o'clock before Justice of the Peace George E. Seely for arraignment on battery charges.

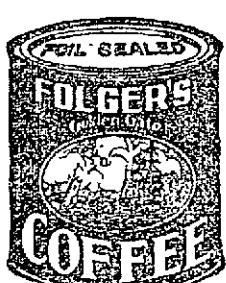

They refused to explain their action. Johnson and Mrs. Seely also were in court. Judge Seely set the trial for Monday afternoon.

Several months ago Mrs. Johnson brought suit for divorce and asked for a division of the community property. The action was dismissed.

When Baby Comes.

Before baby comes there is a period when experienced mothers are glad to aid the expectant mothers. They urge the use of Mother's Friend, obtained at any drug store, because this safe, harmless external remedy is positively necessary since it brings relief in easing the muscles, cords, tendons and ligaments involved, and unnecessary pain is avoided; thus it serves to ease the mind and has a beneficial effect on the nervous system. In many cases nausea, morning sickness and other distresses are avoided.

Hello, Kiddies!
Here's Very Latest
Adventure of
Uncle Wiggly

(By HOWARD R. GARIS.)

"Uncle Wiggly, would you mind going to the store for me?" asked Nurse Jane Fuzzy Wuzzy, the muskrat lady housekeeper, one morning, as she came in from the kitchen of the hollow stump bungalow, where she had been getting ready the breakfast for the rabbit gentleman.

"Go to the store? Why, of course, I'll go to the store," answered Nurse Jane.

"But where?" asked the bunyip uncle.

"The drug store?"

"The drug store? What do you want: calamine powder or court plaster?"

"Nothing, Uncle," answered Nurse Jane.

"I want some peppermint candy."

"Peppermint candy?" Uncle Wiggly wanted to know.

"Not exactly," went on Nurse Jane.

"But I want a little of the peppermint juice with which some candy is flavored."

"I want to take some peppermint juice myself, for I have indigestion. Dr. Possum says peppermint is good for it. I must have eaten a little too much cheese, probably last night."

"The drug store?"

"The drug store? What do you want: peppermint powder or court plaster?"

"Nothing, Uncle," answered Nurse Jane.

"I want some peppermint candy."

"Peppermint candy?" Uncle Wiggly said, and then, with the bottle, which Nurse Jane had given him, he hopped on over the fields and through the woods to the drug store.

But when he got there the cupboard was bare—no, No! I mustn't say that. It doesn't belong to me, Uncle Wiggly reached the drug store, it was closed, and there was a sign in the door which said the monkey-doodle who kept the drug store had gone to a baseball-music picture show and wouldn't be back for a long while.

"Then I wonder where I am going to get Nurse Jane's peppermint?" asked Uncle Wiggly of himself. "I'd better go see if the drug store is still open."

But while Uncle Wiggly was going on through the woods on his errand, he gave a sniff and a whiff, and all of a sudden, he smelled a peppermint smell.

The rabbit gentleman stood still, looking around him. The pink nose twinkle like a pair of roller skates, while he was doing this again came a tiny lady chewing some grass for her complexion.

"What are you doing here, Uncle Wiggly?" asked the cow lady.

"Uncle Wiggly told her how he had gone to the drug store for peppermint for Nurse Jane, and how he had found the store closed, so he could not get any."

"But I smell peppermint here in the woods," went on the bunny uncle.

"Can it be that the drug store monkey-doodle has left some here for me?"

"No, what you smell is—meat," said the cow lady, pointing her horn toward some green plants growing near a little bubbling brook of water. The plants had dark red stems that were square instead of round.

"It does smell like peppermint," said Uncle Wiggly, going closer and sniffing.

"It is peppermint," said the cow lady.

"That is the peppermint plant you see?"

"Oh, now I remember," Uncle Wiggly exclaimed. "They squeeze the juice of these leaves, and that's peppermint flavor for candies."

"Exactly," spoke the cow lady.

New Men on All Teams Help to Increase Interest in Games.

LINCOLN, Neb., April 20.—A season which President Frank C. Zehring promises will be the most successful which the Western League has enjoyed in long years, will open this afternoon with games as follows:

Wichita, at Denver; Topeka at St. Joseph; Sioux City at Lincoln; Omaha at Des Moines.

According to Mr. Zehring, each of the eight clubs has been strengthened and new interest has been awakened throughout the circuit.

Slight rule changes have been instituted by President Zehring since he took charge. In the first place the double-umpire system will be used this year, and eight experienced men, F. A. Eckman, John Muller, W. J. Carney, Otto Anders, Harry C. King, Frank Ryan, Frank Andrews, and R. W. Youdas, have been selected.

"After visiting a majority of the cities of the league, I have been impressed with the general enthusiasm. Each town seems to be the home of a potential permanent winner," said President Zehring.

Reports from the various cities indicate general betterment of the clubs. Manager Frank Isbell's champions are bullet-proof, and the other managers, though their rivals are not willing to concede Des Moines another, regard this year. Only three veterans remain at Lincoln, the team which represented that city last year. Manager Ducky Holmes has gathered a team which he believes will be well up in the race. His pitching staff includes Gregory, Hilt, East, Crowley, Hoffmire, and Rowles. George Seino, born an outsider with the St. Louis Americans, is president of the newly organized Lincoln club.

Manager Rourke at Omaha, claims to have the best team of his career. His line-up with a good record, and his pitching staff is believed to be especially strong.

The addition of Kruger and Murphy to his catching department makes his battery combinations well balanced.

With new managers, the major league experience in the Bob Oakes, the Denver team is expected to put up a hard battle for leading honors. The club has added Butcher and Calisher Stevens from Indiana.

An important addition to the Topeka line-up is Frank Branson, Asger, and Manager Battimore seems otherwise to have increased the strength of his team.

Sioux City's team generally is considered the finest division and Manager Danny Sullivan at St. Joseph, has done much to help his team, reports say. Wichita fans are said by President Zehring to be among the most enthusiastic.

Mountain Retreat of Cervantes.

FIELD HEADQUARTERS, April 26, via aero in Columbus, N. M., April 20.—An American army officer was fired upon this evening while passing a small town near this camp in company with a dispatch bearer. The shooting was without effect. An investigation was made.

A cavalry troop located the camp of Candelario Cervantes, a Villa Lieutenant in the mountains some miles from here. Apparently Cervantes' outposts were able to give him word of the American approach, but his escape was narrow. Seven horses were taken in the mountain camp. Three Mexicans found in that vicinity were brought under custody to headquarters to be questioned. Cervantes has been credited with being one of the men who inspired Villa's attack on Columbus, N. M. His presence in the mountains was discovered through the custom of visiting a young woman in a town near one of the American lines. From Mexicans in that town information was obtained of the location of Cervantes' camp.

Although the Americans did not see him, the command was reported to have about seventy-five men. They made no attempt to stand against the Americans.

Could Not Suit Him,
Says Wife, So Sues

When H. B. Warner, the noted English actor, who is playing at the Franklin in "The Raiders," appeared in "Alles Jimmy Valentine," a Chicago newspaper reporter was sent to him to ask a very personal question, to wit: "Do you wear a corset?"

Realizing that the question was asked in good faith, the actor took the interrogation good naturedly, and, stripping off his coat, proved that his slender waist line was of natural own making. The incident occurred several years ago, but Warner still retains the graceful lines of youth. He attributes this to clean living and exercise. Each morning he arises at 5, drinks two glasses of hot water, goes through a series of vigorous exercises and for twenty minutes fills his lungs with fresh air by deep breathing. His routine of gymnastics, he declares, calls into play every muscle in his body.

"The Raiders," Warner plays the part of a junior clerk in a New York brokerage firm, whose daring, combined with the deft handling of a financial business deal forms the basis of the narrative. This role is one that fits the actor's talents admirably, and he appears to excellent advantage.

CHAUFFEUR FOUND
FOR BANDIT CARDrove $1800 Robbers, but Knew Nothing of Crime.

Helme Bennetts, a chauffeur, was the driver of the motor car in which the three highwaymen who robbed Elmer W. Pettway, Inspector of the San Francisco-Oakland Traction Company, at Richmond, on $1800 last Monday morning, drove up to the Richmond car barns and later made their escape.

This was learned by the Oakland police, who traced the car through the description of witnesses who declared that a white patch on the tire was a distinguishing feature of the machine. Bennetts has given the police a good description of the three men. He said that they had engaged him to drive them to Richmond and return early in the morning of the robbery, and that he knew nothing of their actions in the car barn.

An effort is being made by the police to connect the Richmond highwaymen with two previous robbers, one at the Shell Gasoline Company's service station at Fifteenth and Clay streets some weeks ago, and the other the daylight robbery at the Forum Cafe a year ago.

No further information as to the identity of the highwaymen has been gained by the police. Bennetts said that he had driven the three back to Oakland. The police are satisfied that he had no further connection with the robbers and have not placed him in detention.

Union Services for Fruitvale Churches

Pastors of number of the leading Fruitvale churches will participate in special service tomorrow afternoon at St. Phillip's Episcopal church, Fruitvale, where Rev. Mardon D. Wilson is pastor. These will speak briefly on "The Seven Words of the Cross," with the remainder of the program, beginning at 12 o'clock and closing at 3 o'clock promptly, will consist of prayers and hymns broken by short intervals of silence.

Those who will assist will be Rev. Mr. Wilson, who will give the first and last address; Rev. Franklin Rhodes, pastor of the Fruitvale Presbyterian church; Rev. H. L. Rowe, pastor of the Fruitvale Methodist church; Rev. H. E. Hayes, pastor of the Central Presbyterian church; Rev. E. F. Rice, Presbyterian minister not in active service.

The service has now been held on Good Friday for three years in succession. It will be preceded in the morning by morning prayer, the pentecostal office and the ultra-communion service at 10 o'clock. Rev. Mardon Wilson will also preach a short sermon, preached by Rev. Allen.

The program will consist of the following hymns: "Father, Forgive Them for They Know Not What They Do," "Woman Behold Thy Son," "Behold Thy Mother," "Today Shall Thou Be in Paradise," "My God, My God, Why Hast Thou Forsaken Me?" "I Thirst," "It is Finished," "Father Into Thy Hands I Command My Spirit."

BERLIN, April 26.—Heinrich Lang, a Hamburg multi-millionaire and a member of one of the respected families in Germany, has committed suicide in order to escape prosecution for selling grain for the feeding of livestock.

Magnate Ends Life
Under Accusations

Good Friday will be observed tomorrow at St. Paul's Episcopal church at Montecito and Bay Place, with a three hours' public service, from noon until 3 o'clock, during which people may come and go as they please. At 10:30 o'clock there will be a sermon, preached by Rev. Allen.

The body was poorly clad. In one of the pockets was found an envelope bearing the name of Miss E. O. Webb, wife of one of the Hayward school trustees. Mrs. Webb is away from home and whether or not the envelope will prove a means of identification has not yet been learned. It is thought probable the old man had picked it up.

The body was removed to the morgue.

NEW AERIAL TRUCK TO LEAD PARADE

Illuminated Autos to Be Feature of Opening of Motor Show.

The new combination aerial truck and water power for the Oakland auto department will be decorated with electric lights and will lead the fire apparatus section of the big illuminated parade Wednesday evening to open the Pacific Coast Automobile, Road Making and Motor Power Show at the Muni. The fire department, the fire department, will be represented in the parade by eight pieces of illuminated and decorated apparatus, Commissioner F. F. Jackson having made arrangements today for the participation of the police and fire departments in the procession.

Police automobiles from the central, northern and Melrose stations will be decorated and will compete in the parade for the loving cup which is to be offered for the most artistically decorated machine in each division of the parade.

While the fire department, for the electric procession, the first great illuminated night parade held in Oakland, has not been definitely agreed upon by the committee, it has been decided that the boulevard around Lake Merritt will be included in the route.

TO ENCIRCLE LAKE.

The lake will be circled by gorgeously illuminated and decorated automobiles, tractors, transportation equipment, and fire apparatus. The lights will be reflected in the waters of Lake Merritt, and it is anticipated that the long parade will make a belt of fire around almost the complete circumference of this body of water. The parade is to be held on April 26. The spectators will be out of great beauty. In case it is a calm night, it is probable that the procession will be accompanied on part of its trip around the lake by illuminated canoes, rowboats and small barges.

The decoration committee, appointed by General Chairman E. C. Wilson, and co-operating with Wilson and Vice-Chairman H. F. Clappage, consists of J. E. Bauerhan, City Commissioners F. F. Jackson and W. H. Edwards, Henry Davis, C. G. Monroe, K. S. Castle, D. E. Davis, W. E. Kimball, Benjamin Myers, Edward Wadsworth and Sergeant Frank Sherry, head of the motor vehicle division of the police department. A. E. Berg is chairman of the committee on parade arrangements and Herbert S. Smith, general secretary.

MANY TO TAKE PART.

Entries have been coming in hourly for the big parade, which is to be in five divisions. These are as follows: Decorated and illuminated motor vehicles of police and fire departments, and the cars of city officials, led by that of Mayor John L. Davy; decorated and illuminated autos of business men, merchants and private owners; automobile dealers and accessory house representatives; in cars and decorated floats; decorated and illuminated trucks and motor apparatus; built over "racy type" runabouts, decorated and illuminated.

The San Jose Auto Dealers' Association has made arrangements to enter two electrical floats. The Chambers of Commerce and Manufacturers' Committee will have floats, and three floats will be entered by the Spoff Bros. Electrical Co. Arrangements are also being made by several department stores to have illuminated floats.

All stores will be illuminated in the business district on the night of the parade. Commissioner H. S. Anderson has announced that the City Hall will be illuminated.

Vacillation Is Responsible: Burton

SALEM, Ore., April 20.—After expressing his views on President Wilson's stand against Germany's methods of submarine warfare, Theodore E. Burton of Ohio, active Republican candidate for President, left for Portland today to deliver other speeches.

"There is no denying the fact," asserted Burton, "that the present serious situation has been caused by the vacillation of the present administration. The government should have taken a firm stand on one of its first notes and adhered to it constantly."

Instant Hair Stain Better Than Slow Restorers'

Some folks would have you believe that they have discovered some new and valuable secret to a hair restorer. It is a color to gray streaks, or faded hair, or hair staining it. No such preparation has ever been discovered.

There is only one preparation so far as we know that is entirely free from sulphur, lead, silver, mercury, zinc, arsenic, coal tar products or their derivatives. That product is "Brownstone." It is so easy and safe to apply that the wonder is that anyone ever uses anything else.

"Brownstone" instantly turns the hair to a shade of brown (or black) that may be desired. It may be applied to your temples or to streaking your hair, or if the ends of your hair are lighter than the balance, or if for any reason you wish to do so, or part of your hair—use "Brownstone."

A sample and a booklet will be sent you (from manufacturers only) upon request of 10c. Mention shade desired.

All the leading drug stores sell "Brownstone." The price 25c and up. Insist on "Brownstone" at your hair dresser.

There is only one preparation so far as we know that is entirely free from sulphur, lead, silver, mercury, zinc, arsenic, coal tar products or their derivatives.

That product is "Brownstone." It is so easy and safe to apply that the wonder is that anyone ever uses anything else.

"Brownstone" instantly turns the hair to a shade of brown (or black) that may be desired. It may be applied to your temples or to streaking your hair, or if the ends of your hair are lighter than the balance, or if for any reason you wish to do so, or part of your hair—use "Brownstone."

A sample and a booklet will be sent you (from manufacturers only) upon request of 10c. Mention shade desired.

All the leading drug stores sell "Brownstone." The price 25c and up. Insist on "Brownstone" at your hair dresser.

Prepared by the Kenyon Pharmaceutical Co., 30 E. Main St., Covington, Ky.

For sale by The Old Drug Co. 21 stores on the Pacific Coast.—Advertisement.

STILL HOPE TO PRESERVE PEACE.

It would be futile to discount the seriousness of the situation that has developed in the relations between the government of the United States and the government of Germany. President Wilson has delivered to Germany an ultimatum, without a time limit, but to which an immediate reply is requested. The only way in which an open rupture of diplomatic relations, that we can see at present, is prompt and complete compliance on the part of the Kaiser's government.

To make such a surrender to the American demands means repudiation of nearly all the hostile acts of German submarine warfare since the sinking of the Lusitania and virtually the abandonment of submarine attacks upon the ships of commerce of Germany's enemies. This will entail a big concession, and one to which it will be hard for the German government to reconcile German public sentiment. We hope, naturally, that Germany will meet President Wilson's demands with complete acquiescence. There is but scant ground to hope that she will, but until the German reply is received we shall continue to hope that friendly relations will not be entirely severed and to urge upon all to refrain from predicting, or even considering, the dire probabilities and possibilities of breaking-off of relations.

The President's note to Germany, ostensibly provoked by the explosion under the English channel steamer Sussex, has the tone of being absolutely the final word. The appearance of the President before Congress, not to ask advice and seek support, it must be noted, but merely to inform the representatives of the people the position of the government in this crisis, must also be considered as indicating that the final efforts to settle the difficulties by diplomatic negotiations have been made.

In both the note to Foreign Minister von Jagow and in his message to Congress President Wilson makes a strong and severe indictment of German submarine policies and of the sincerity of German statements through the channels of friendly diplomacy. He resorts to stronger language than he has used in any previous communication to a friendly power. Even the severe note of Secretary Lansing to Count von Burian of the Austrian foreign office in the Ancona case is comparable only to a degree, for Germany is accused of bad faith and of breaking explicit promises.

Concluding that the acts of the German government permit only of the interpretation that it regards international law of no consequence, President Wilson states:

"If it is the purpose of the German government to prosecute relentless and indiscriminate warfare against vessels of commerce by the use of submarines without regard to what the Government of the United States must consider the sacred and indisputable rules of international law and the universally recognized dictates of humanity, there is only one course to pursue."

This only choice is to sever diplomatic relations altogether.

The policies which have led the President to the present critical conclusion, are based upon and are the result of his determination to uphold the law if possible for the better safeguarding of the rights of neutrals. We have all along approved the President's course in this respect, believing that it was the surest guarantee of peace and being unable to see any way that future wars may be avoided if international law is completely broken down in the present conflict.

Yet we have not failed to appreciate that Germany has a strong case in fact in her stand for the use of submarines against enemy craft. Submarines are a new implement of war. The conventions approved by civilized powers were concluded without knowledge of or reference to the new conditions which the use of the submarine creates. We have recognized the reasonableness of Germany's assertion of the right to resort to retaliatory measures against the English blockade of German and neutral ports. Yet we have feared to see violations of international law permitted lest the structure designed for the protection of innocent neutrals be completely destroyed. We have believed, and still believe, the inviolability of neutral rights of greater moment than serving the military advantage of a belligerent.

We believe the German government should realize that such damage as her submarines are able to inflict on her enemies is not important enough to justify inviting the animosity of the whole world, of assuming an attitude of defiance of every consideration but her own military goals. To preserve peaceful relations with the United States such a course is necessary.

The President does not have to ask Congress permission to break off diplomatic relations. We do not believe he will suffer Congressional interference. But while the situation is extremely grave, it is not totally hopeless. Germany has one "out." Will she take it? Or will she say she does not care what the United States does or what the world thinks. We fear the latter alternative, but hope for the former.

MEXICAN SITUATION SHIFTING.

Word has come out of Mexico that the hunt for Bandit Villa has been halted, reinforcements have been sent to General Pershing and the American forces are preparing to meet any possible attack from Carranzistas.

We feel justified in using the time-honored phrase, "we told you so." Time and again since the raid on Columbus, New Mexico, we have warned the administration at Washington that it must count on meeting the opposition of Carranza and guard against treachery of the soldiers of the First Chief. We urged that Mexican railways be used, that nothing short of a force and of facilities necessary to press the campaign against Villa to a thorough and speedy conclusion should be considered.

What has happened? Carranzistas have attacked American supply trains, and treacherously joined in a murderous assault upon American troops, reported to have been unarmed, who entered Parral to purchase food for themselves and comrades. What is the explanation the Carranza government makes of the Parral affair? Read the words of Senor Juan Amador, sub-secretary of foreign affairs in the de facto government.

"American soldiers were forced into Parral because they could get nothing to eat in the surrounding country and were so far from the border that it was impossible to send them provisions without giving this expedition the appearance of something more than its name suggests."

This is a sad commentary upon the conduct of those responsible for the well-being of the American forces, even from a Mexican. We are told by Senor Amador that our soldiers are so far from their base that they were starving, unable to get supplies from the United States. Between the lines is the statement that the American government has wantonly and inexcusably neglected its duty toward its military forces upon a hazardous duty assigned them by the government. It is no excuse for the treachery of Carranza soldiers or the native populace of Parral; but it is a terrific indictment of Washington dawdling, indecision and cowardly lack of initiative.

No other nation of the world would have permitted such conditions except at the cost of every available national resource.

In the meantime Washington, apparently unashamed over this incident, seriously considers the report, which has every earmark of a deliberate Carranzista canard, that Villa is dead. Not satisfied with giving courteous attention to the tale until it is verified, which is all common sense requires, the administration makes it an excuse to change the military program in Mexico and negotiate with Carranza. This Villa story, true or untrue, is fine example of Mexican diplomacy, the diplomacy of falsehood, deception and "bunk." Can anyone expect a satisfactory outcome from negotiations with the authors of such outrages upon decent truth?

We believe that any wavering in the campaign to avenge the raid on Columbus and convince Mexicans that we intend to protect our citizens in their own homes on American territory will be worse than disaster. It will destroy the standing of the United States among Mexicans for generations to come, or necessitate a more thoroughgoing, expensive and a relentless punitive expedition.

CONTINUED INACTION.

Representative Bennet read into the records of Congress last week a letter received by him from Mr. Steven B. Ayers of New York City, complaining against the absence of any noteworthy conclusive action by Congress, particularly regarding national defense measures. The letter might have been written by any citizen from any section of the country. It is of peculiar interest to the people of the Pacific Coast at this time. It is as follows:

Dear Sir: Four months have now passed since Congress assembled on the first Monday of last December. No measure for national defense has been made into law. No additional ship has been authorized yet for the Navy. No needed fortifications have been created for the City of New York or where urgently demanded on the Atlantic coast.

The citizens of the New York City expect more prompt results. We are becoming dissatisfied at the delay. We look to you to protect our interests in this most critical time in the history of the Nation. You are urged, therefore, to use every means in your power to hurry along the measures for national defense. The sentiment of the City of New York is almost unanimous in this direction. You can not afford to delay or pander with the manifest duty which confronts us.

The time of danger is the time for unity of purpose and concert of action. May we suggest that the Representatives in Congress from the City of New York hold a meeting and throw their united influence in behalf of prompt measures for the defense and honor of America.

We would do no harm and might enliven the Congressional consciousness a bit if every member received a few thousand such complaints as this one.

NOTES AND COMMENT.

The boy who got too near the cage and was clamped by the tiger was a sure-enough boy. There never yet was one who could get close enough when there was something to see.

Is this another result of the clamped lid? Two Portland judges took boxing lessons. Is it realized that more knock-outs are in prospect than can be met by judicial decisions?

The emperor of Japan has decorated the mayor of San Francisco with the Order of the Rising Sun. This is the mayor's third decoration, which shows that we are getting on.

Three million inhabitants in California, and crowding is not beginning to be felt. It was James G. Blaine who referred to the "Mighty Empire of the Pacific," meaning us.

Typographical errors will happen, and are not good subjects for animadversion, but Alamedans are very likely to take notice of an item that refers to land "east of Pork street."

Instinctively the public mind hereabouts turns to the possibilities of hostile warships, and realizes what a chance for them there would be up and down this coast in the event of a war.

Louisiana University has expelled twelve seniors who participated in the shaving of the "freshes." This is definite action in a direction that few universities as yet see their way to follow.

The American Federation of Musicians has declared a boycott on all Native Son functions. It is difficult to see how it can make a point by this. But a boycott is never a really welcome thing.

The Italians are not making headway in their mixup with the Austrians, though there are not very full particulars. The fighting appears to be lackadaisical, and the object aimed at on either side is obscured.

Looks as though the attempt to palm off a second-hand corpse for Villa is a ghastly fake, probably engineered by Carranza to get out of a tight place. It was figured to furnish a basis for a demand that the United States army retire from the country.

Now, then, read the news from St. Louis—gasoline drops one cent a gallon. And take account of the reason given—importations from Borneo. How odd cheap gasoline in the Pacific so far inland and miles the port of San Francisco so completely?

San Francisco may have an automobile race, we are informed in the news. Which means that the scene is likely to be set for another probable tragedy. An automobile race is not a sport. It is a challenge to death. And people pay to get in to see whether the challenge is taken up.

The department of agriculture recommends the use of light weight paper to relieve the scarcity of pulp. That is suggestive of the German economies which may become world precedents and lessons. We have not before had object lessons in the extravagance and waste that have become habitual in this abundant land.

Richard Hardwick Davis made war correspondent, book and magazine writing pay if he died worth a quarter of a million. The man with the pen, if he can wield it entertainingly, can gather in shekels in this day, whether he is able to achieve an enduring fame or not, which is just the reverse of other times. Poe all but starved to death.

JOKE WITH AN AFTERTHOUGHT.

A newspaper humorist quotes this from a letter received by one of the Georgia Congressmen:

"My youngest son has gone away and enlisted in the regular army. I can't get him out. Won't you help me? He is a good boy and I was raising him for my own use."

In one sense this is a joke—a joke on the father, who was bringing up the boy to get as much work out of him as possible—and the young soldier probably has checked over it more than anybody else.

But the story is more serious than humorous. This boy ran away to escape three or four years of hard labor for his father's profit. Unfortunately a good many children cannot escape from their slavery to parents and cotton-mill owners. Georgia has 2319 child laborers under 16 years of age, North Carolina 6358 and South Carolina 4154, and it is up to the state or federal legislature to give them their heritage of sunshine, play and schooling.

COMING IN THE BACK WAY!

ARE WE PREPARED?

A Flood of Blood

WEIN an hour after the landing of a hostile army in New York every railroad station could be seized.

Dover, where practically all the high explosives of the United States are stored, and where the great naval depot is located, is but one hour and a half from New York, even by slow train. Three trains of ten cars each, running fifteen minutes apart, could easily convey to Dover 1000 trained soldiers, with their light equipment, including 100 motorcycles, with rapid-fire gun-sweeping mitrailleuses. If they could not at once take possession of the factories and arsenals, they could absolutely control the situation until reinforcements and heavy guns arrived.

I saw a French lad of 25, wounded in the arm and in the head, brought into one of the hospitals after the battle of the Marne. He and his companion had operated our mitrailleuse. This they had placed in a small opening between two rocks, so that they were fairly well sheltered. These two boys effectively worked their machine gun for three hours. When the enemy was finally driven back it was found that 1063 dead bodies had been left in the fan sweep of this one gun.

Bridgeport at the east—the Essex of the United States—is but one and one-half hours from New York. This could be taken and held, with the aid of bombardment from the sea, more easily even than Dover. With Galling guns once established, the factories could be held by 500 men. Other divisions could then move on to New Haven, and later to Hartford. Another division could move to Springfield from Boston, only three hours by rail.

From the Pennsylvania station alone trains of ten cars could be run to the west every fifteen minutes, if necessary. A hundred thousand troops could be moved in forty-eight hours to capture all the plants in New Jersey and eastern Pennsylvania.

Pompton Lake, Garney's Point, Parlin Lake and all the important ammunition, powder and explosive factories in New Jersey could be reached from New York in less than four hours. Bethlehem itself and the eastern coal fields are but three hours away.

From the New York Central an equal number of trains could carry an equal number of troops to capture the arms and ammunition factories in eastern New York, Massachusetts, Connecticut and Rhode Island.

But could a foreign army accomplish all this in the face of the opposition of individual American citizens?

At the beginning of the European war France mobilized 1,000,000 men in the first six days; Belgium 200,000;

HEYER IS TO ABOLISH POT LUCK IN INFIRMARY

Indigents No More May Help Themselves at Table, Under His Desired Reform 'System'

HIGH BOARD FENCE TO HOLD THIRSTY

Innovations Arranged, but Investigation Will Go Ahead, Asserts the Committee Chief

Inmates at the county infirmary will hereafter have their portions of stew, mush and soup ladled out to them. Instead of "doling" into the pot with individual knife, fork or spoon, there will be a paid corps of steward and assistants to wait upon them. Instead of having patients serve in minor capacities, drinking of liquor on the part of employees and patients alike will be taboo and last, but not least, there will be constructed about the premises a high board fence with barbed wire surrounding to keep the indigents from straying anywhere where fiery liquor or amber fluid flows.

Supervisor Charles Heyer, chairman of the infirmary committee, says that these reforms will be made and carried into effect promptly.

"When the members of the board visit the infirmary next Wednesday there will be a complete investigation of many evils that have existed in the past," said Supervisor Heyer.

ALL UNDER INQUIRY. Employees and patients alike will be arraigned in the matter of the liquor complaints. "We will not permit the patients to go out and obtain liquor. I do not believe that the Junction House proprietor has been violating the rules against selling liquor to indigents who live at the infirmary. I have had no complaints that he has. Supervisor Foss may say so, but he is campaigning this year."

The whole trouble arises from the system of appointing inmates to petty positions with a pittance of a salary. They are, in a certain degree, above the rest of the patients, who are otherwise there on the same level with them. Petty jealousies arise and make trouble.

"As soon as Dr. Wills returns from his vacation a new system will be placed into effect. I am in favor of hiring a dining-room steward who is not an inmate."

MANY INTRACTABLE

"There is no question about it, some of the inmates are difficult to deal with. I myself discovered this on one or two occasions and took steps to remedy certain evils. Particularly in the dining-room the order has been bad, the individuals helping themselves with their own forks and spoons instead of my separate table. Those who were favored got the best, and it is not true that I have been endeavoring to have these things corrected and only welcome the investigation, because then will be seen the necessity of employing outside help to manage the old people instead of selecting bosses from among their own number."

"Another thing—I am going to have a high fence constructed about the grounds and make it impossible for inmates to leave without obtaining a permit. We will then know where they are going and when they are away. 'Boozers' will not be tolerated."

Supervisor Mullins, in speaking of the forthcoming investigation, said to day that it will be a good thing.

"It won't do any harm to stir up this matter," he said. "While there are no very great evils existing at the infirmary, the petty ones should be remedied wherever possible."

Guitars Tinkle Sailors Depart

Mere Money Is Nothing When Moon Shines

SAN FRANCISCO, April 20. Tra la la! What is mere American money in Mexico? An empty nothing—less than that. This was the impression of the good steamer Peru's skipper today when he docked a week late after a voyage to the romantic southern coast.

When he reached Mazatlan the Mexican fleet was in port. It consisted of the gunboat Guerrero and a coral life preserver, but—Caramba! Was not the fleet something for all that gold, were the movements of living things like the ones captured by the wagging of a dog's tail, fascinated by the quiet changing attitudes of the first crew left?

At Mazatlan Curranza was having a feast. Tortillas! Enchiladas! Vino! The Peru was days late and lost money constantly, but what was that to the sailors? when the semirio's eyes flashed in the moonlight? The skipper cursed in vain. Thinness was suspended. Many seamen heard the call of the guitar and departed.

At Peru's port home, stars, torn and weary, short-handed and long overdue. But what is cash when there are hands to be eaten and wives to be quaffed? A mere nothing, I tell you!

Tra la la!

Thirsty Farmers Get Rainfall on Coast

Rain fell in the extreme northern section of California and as far south as Eureka this morning, but there is little likelihood of the storm reaching this neighborhood. The farmers are thirsting for moisture and with the exception of some damage to cut hay showers would be welcomed everywhere. There seems little likelihood of rain in the immediate future, however, although tomorrow's forecast predicts showers in the northern portion of the Sacramento Valley.

Coal Barge Again to Sail as Merchantman

NEW YORK, April 20.—The old American clipper bark Foo'ling Suey, which was converted into a coal barge five years ago, will be restored and again sail the seas as a bark, the Maritime Exchange announces. This is due to the scarcity of tonnage and higher freight rates caused by the war.

FOUNDED DEAD BY WINDOW.

William Nicolini, a clerk, 556 Lyon street, died suddenly at his home this morning. He was found dying by his wife, Mrs. Mame Nicolini. It is thought that death was due to heart trouble. He was 30 years of age and is survived by a widow. An inquest will be held.

HUNDRED VICTIMS OF TORNADOES

Twenty Dead and Scores Are Hurt; Heavy Property Loss.

KANSAS CITY, April 20. Reports received up to noon today from the tornado-swept sections of Missouri and Kansas indicated the death list in yesterday's storms would reach twenty. Over 100 persons were injured. The property damage probably will amount to more than $750,000.

Steve, Marion county, Mo., still was cut off from communication today, and it was impossible to confirm reports that the persons were killed.

The death list was added to by reports from Unlontow, Bourbon county, Kans., which said four persons had been killed. Olean, Mo., reported the death of John Harris and wife, who lost their lives when a tornado demolished their home. Two deaths and the injury of 30 persons were reported from Arthur, Mo.

The wind swept a path four miles long and a quarter of a mile wide near Fort Scott, Kans., razing all the buildings in its path. The little town of Berlin, in Bourbon county, Kans., which recently petitioned state officials to change its name, was badly damaged.

All of the Kansas storms broke during the daylight. Black clouds gave people ample warning and most of them were able to get into the storm cellar.

The report that every house in Rutherford, Mo., had been destroyed and thirty injured there was, however, unconfirmed. Heavy damage was done to Lowry City and Rockville. It was reported that Jefferson City, California and Olean, all in Missouri had been struck. Nearby cities rushed aid.

Chance for Bachelors; Rotarians Do It

SAN JOSE, April 20.—Letters from women who said they were marriageable featured the weekly meeting of the Rotary Club yesterday. They inquired about single bachelors of the Rotary Club whose bachelor state got a lot of advertising at the hands of practical jokers of the club. None of the men was willing to take a chance of a mail-order wife, they said.

The following is the eligible list: R. F. Benson, Henry Hirsch, H. S. Kittredge, Ray Rugg, Walter M. Southamer and E. M. Smith.

GIRL GAZES STILL WITH HER DIGITS

Sight Restored, Miss Carlyle Cannot "Read"

Clinging to "Point" Letters, She Serves Blind Humanity

Although it is a year since Miss Tonawanda Carlyle, the University of California student, blind from birth, gained the use of one of her eyes through the skill of a surgeon, she has not yet learned the English alphabet in print, according to her mother, Mrs. E. R. Carlyle, 68 Waverly drive, Pasadena. "It is doubtful if my daughter ever will learn 'print' reading, notwithstanding the fact that after six months more of educational work she will have received all of the university degrees it is possible for her to acquire. She still desires to cling to the sight method of reading," the mother said in a letter to friends received today.

SIGHT COMES SLOWLY.

Born in blindness in Zanesville, W. Va., Miss Carlyle, after successfully passing all grades in the elementary school and high school, attended the Wisconsin State Normal School for the Blind and graduated with honors from that institution. Later she was a student of the Wisconsin University and finally she enrolled at the University of California, from which institution she graduated in 1915. Since last September she has been teaching in the Wisconsin State School for the Blind, and her work there has been regarded as of a remarkably high character.

Strange visions met the sight of Miss Carlyle when, after 25 years of darkness, the surgeon's knife brought sight to her eye. Most marvelous of all, she said, were the movements of living things, for she was captured by the wagging of a dog's tail, fascinated by the quiet changing attitudes of the first cat she saw.

Before the greatest day in her life, Miss Carlyle had known these dumb creatures only by touching them with her hands. Activity had no meaning to her; neither could she comprehend the variations of color or the change of perspective.

It was with pathetic joy, almost bordering on grief, that the young woman first gazed upon the face of her own mother. Had she met that mother in a dream, without knowledge of her presence, she would have known her only by the kindly voice.

READS WITH FINGERS.

The same thing has been true of books and newspapers. While Miss Carlyle was familiar with the works of the greatest authors, and was well informed on all current events, the first time she looked upon a printed page it was blank to her.

In the years of her careful education the young woman has become a skillful operator of the typewriter. But the words are read by her fingers rather than her eyes.

In other words, she is still reading of the child appears to predominate. The reading of printed words is a labor to her. She clings still to the "point" letters, through whose agency the blind might be able to read.

While Miss Carlyle jokes with her friends regarding her inability to read the printed page, the truth of the matter is that she has not found time for extended study in acquiring a knowledge of the printed alphabet. Her choice is to spend the rest of her life in the education and elevation of her blind brothers and sisters, as she calls them.

NEW PLAN OF REFINANCING IS ACCEPTED

Brum and Carlston Committees Reach Agreement

Non-Consenting Group, However, Continues Opposition

After two conferences between the members of the Brum reorganization committee and the Carlston committee, following the decision of the State Railroads Commission on the plan of refinancing the Peoples Water Company, the two groups announced an agreement.

It is doubtful if the scheme of refinancing as it stands is the best scheme to effect at once, unless some unavoidable circumstance should suspend the concerted efforts of the bankers.

Only one detail remains to be performed before the actual organization of the East Bay Water Company. The committee conference will be followed by an immediate transmission of the plan to the Peoples Water Company bondholders, ninety-eight percent of whom have virtually decided to be guided by the reorganization committee. A reorganization has been accomplished in an informal way in the joint conferences, because the members thereto are in control of the majority of the securities involved. To follow form, the proposed plan will be submitted formally before the Railroad Commission is asked to give its final approval to the utility at the present option.

VARIOUS INTERESTS.

The personnel of the East Bay Water Company has already been determined. Since there was some suggestion that Robert M. Fitzgerald would be president of the board, it is thought that this may have been premature. The board of directors will be composed of Henry E. Brum, P. E. Bowles, J. F. Carlton, William Cavalier, George H. Collins, John S. Drum, J. V. Eccleston, Robert M. Fitzgerald, Stuart S. Hawley, E. A. Heron, Percy T. Morgan, Frank Oats and P. W. Van Stellen. Percy T. Morgan is named by the trustees of the first mortgage, the Union Trust Company, San Francisco. A. J. Ieran and William Cavalier are named by F. C. Havens, during which time as "the amount of stock, preferred or common, owned or represented by written proxies held by him in the East Bay Water Company warrants his selection of two directors." The offices of the other nine directors shall be filled in the event of vacancy, by a vote of the board.

Havens, in accepting the reorganization plan, agrees not to become a director of the corporation himself in the event that Oakland purchases the utility at the present option.

POINT OF CONTENTION.

The position of Havens in the reorganization scheme has caused much discussion among the non-consenting group of bondholders who object to the present plan. Havens owns or controls about the preferred $2,000,000 of the $18,000,000 company. His value is problematical, but under the new scheme he is to receive $300,000 for it. The fact that a stockholder of the old company is to receive consideration while there is an absorption in the group of Peoples Water Company bondholders, is the crux of the non-consenting group's fight. This and the question of control of the new company, has prompted Attorney James F. Peck to file a petition in intervention in the Mercantile Trust foreclosure suit, which involves the property under its present first mortgage.

While the committees appear to have agreed, the non-consenting group is attempting to have the new plan rejected. The full significance of this will only be determined when the new plan is formally submitted to them for endorsement. At present, the refinancing element headed by Brum and Carlton can take up the outstanding non-consenting bonds for the face value and interest, and then pool the entire Peoples Water Company bonds behind the present scheme. This would cost slightly over $300,000.

CHEVROLET PLANT AIDS ELECTRIC LOOP PROJECTS

The rapid progress of construction of the million dollar Chevrolet Automobile Company's plant has caused a big activity in the Electric Loop tract. The frame is up and carpenters are now placing the exterior for a large apartment house with stores on the street front west of Southern Pacific station. Just east of the station and civic center, two brick-front stores are being constructed. Through the use of the hammer and sickle, the new population and big pay roll is branching into the Electric Loop tract.

The fact that the new buildings can be leased for a low rent payment makes this an unusual opportunity for real estate investment. Property is selling very rapidly throughout the tract.

WORLD CHANGE DRY LAW.

TACOMA, Wash., April 20.—William Vining, former brewer of this city, is in Olympia today for the purpose of filing an initiative petition to be passed on by the voters which, if enacted into law, would legalize the manufacture of beer in the state of Washington, permit its sale for export or direct to consumers by delivery at residences.

DIRECTORS DODGE DANCING ISSUES

"Let Mothers Do It," Is Conclusion of President Herms and Colleagues.

BERKELEY, April 20.—The members of the board of education have again addressed the "trailing" question. With it squarely put to them at their meeting this week by Director Mrs. Elvina Beals, her colleagues on the board gave voice to the resolution that they did not want to take a hand in regulating the dances in the schools of this city.

"Whereas the Berkeley Board of Education is confronted by many and serious problems, one of which is that of five assembly halls which are to be devoted to the social, moral and intellectual upbuilding of our community," read the resolution which was adopted.

"Resolved, that the Berkeley Board of Education, whereas Berkeley is a great educational center of the State, we desire to provide pure, wholesome and uplifting forms of pleasure for our children and young people, as well as for the older citizens, shall set a high standard, therefore, be it

"Resolved, that all dancing and degrading forms of dancing be not permitted at all school affairs held in our public schools."

President W. B. Herms believed there should be a delay in the decision of the board. He thought the mothers committee would soon make a ruling, working quietly to stamp out the undesirable dances. He wanted to hear the Childs' Welfare league dictum on the matter.

Walter A. Gomperz, who is particularly for the parents to deal with and not the board. If improper dancing takes place in the schools it is up to the principals to stop it, but he do not believe the board should lay down a definite line of demarcation between proper and improper dancing.

Mrs. Carrie Gibbs was at a loss to see how "even if we make any rules we can see that they are carried out."

An additional plea that the board pass the resolution was made by Mrs. W. Cleverdon, who was instrumental in having the original resolution against ragging passed by the Alameda Mothers' club.

To Tell of Relief Work in War Time

BERKELEY, April 20.—The Red Cross lecture which is to be given Friday evening in the Berkeley hall promises to be one of unusual interest and value. The speaker is Dr. Benjamin Jacobs, pathologist of the St. Francis Hospital in San Francisco, a man who has seen distinguished service abroad not only in the American ambulance hospital corps, but earlier still in the Balkans, where he was in the Serbian army during the war of 1912-1913.

His topic is "Emergency Relief in War Time." The lecture will be illustrated by a remarkable series of stereopticon views taken by the speaker during his long and varied experience abroad. The lecture is free, and the public is invited.

Fifty War Orphans Are Endowed by Sororities

BERKELEY, April 20.—Fifty French orphans have been endowed by four sororities, regular and individual, at the University of California, and several more are expected to be taken care of in the next few days, according to Miss Mary Gayley, daughter of Professor C. M. Gayley of the department of English, who is treasurer-treasurer of the campaign here.

This system of endowment is the giving of 10 cents a day by persons in the United States to the French children who are left orphans by the recent war of France and whose mothers get 25 cents a day as well. With 160,000 persons in a day country subscribing the orphans and fatherless children of France will be taken care of.

Relic of Civil War Victim Is Summoned

BERKELEY, April 20.—Mrs. Emily L. French, a widow since the Civil War, who had a son in the Union army, French was killed in the battle of Chancellorsville, died yesterday at her home at 2236 Sumner street. Mrs. French was a native of Massachusetts, eighty-one years of age. She had resided here for forty-two years, coming by way of the Panama route.

Mrs. French was prominent in the Daughters of the American Revolution.

She was a member of the local unit of the D. A. R. and had a son in the California faculty of the University of California.

Dr. Ivan M. Lanthorn of the University of California faculty is a grandson.

Commerce Chamber Elects Directors

BERKELEY, April 20.—The election held by the Berkeley Chamber of Commerce to choose ten directors for the ensuing term resulted in the election of the following:

Carl Bartlett, D. E. Bigelow, G. H. Carmeli, Chas. B. Hayward, H. H. Howard, Herbert Jones, E. F. Loudeak, Jas. W. Plaicher, F. M. Slick and R. J. Williams.

The holding directors, eleven in number, are as follows:

T. E. Caldecott, H. H. Camper, G. T. Douglas, C. C. Emslie, T. H. Fallon, B. A. Glover, H. D. Irwin, H. J. Marsteller, J. H. Pape, F. H. Thatcher, W. A. Shockley.

Y. M. C. A. Men Plan Yosemite Tramp

BERKELEY, April 20.—In response to the large demand for a long tramp under the supervision of the Berkeley Y. M. C. A. Street, physical director, has announced a trip to Yosemite Valley with the tentative dates of July 1 to 10. Preparations will be made for the party of 100 to take a walk of 100 miles from Chinese Camp, about sixty miles from the valley.

Arrangements will also be made to take a cook. The men will be responsible for the work in the Yosemite Valley. The abundance of snow during the past winter will provide a great deal of water and the falls will be at their best this year.

FUNERAL HELD.

ALAMEDA, April 20.—Funeral services were held this morning for Harold Lewkowitz, who died Tuesday afternoon at the home of his wife, 1125 16th street. He was twenty-one years of age, and had lived in Alameda for seven years. He was the brother of Miss Sternberg B. Hubbard of Springfield, Ohio.

DON'T SQUEEZE BLACK- HEADS: DISSOLVE THEM

Squeezing and pinching our blackheads make the pores large and cause irritation—then, after they have become hard, you cannot get all of the oil out, because the pores are now accumulations of dust and dirt and seborrhoea from the skin, and there is only one safe and sure way and that is never fail to get rid of them. Squeeze out the oil, then get rid of the blackheads, then get rid of the pores.

PARTHENIA WILL REMAIN ANNUAL

U. C. Women Reject Proposal of Biennial Performance.

BERKELEY, April 20.—By a vote of more than 2 to 1, the suggested Women's Students' election resulted in the decision to continue the practice of holding the Parthenia annually instead of biennially, was advocated by a number of students following this year's production. The result of the ballot was 632 in favor of an annual production and 221 against.

The revised constitution was passed by a vote of 604 to 46 against its proposal.

His topic is "Emergency Relief in War Time." The lecture will be illustrated by a remarkable series of stereopticon views taken by the speaker during his long and varied experience abroad. The lecture is free, and the public is invited.

Court Recognizes Her as Daughter Beatrice Barker Wins Legal Fight

MISS BEATRICE ARABELLA BARKER, FORMER OAKLAND GIRL WHOSE CLAIM TO FORTUNE HAS BEEN UPHELD.

Four Years of Litigation Establishes Legitimacy of Oakland Girl

After four years of wearisome litigation which occasioned nation-wide attention, 17-year-old Beatrice Arabela Barker, former Oakland girl, has at last won a father and a fortune of $100,000 at one and the same time. Word was received by Oakland friends of the family today that the long legal processes involving the girl's title to a share of her great grandfather's estate had been finally exhausted in the New York State Appellate Court.

Judge Thomas, writing the opinion, has held that the girl should immediately get her share of the $1,200,000 estate which was left by her great grandfather, Charles Barker, who died in Brooklyn in 1875.

Miss Barker is the daughter of Mrs. Estelle Dorgeloh, who was a resident of Oakland as a girl and young woman, and who now resides at Brookline, Mass. Her present husband is Henry F. Dorgeloh, Boston manager of the Hamburg-American Line. Her father, Charles S. Barker, died in 1901, and his widow subsequently was married to Dorgeloh.

It was a hasty marriage before either of these persons, however, could cause all of the trouble. When it was in Oakland and but 16 years old, the girl's mother had married an actor, Alphonse Murtha. This marriage had never been voided either by death or court decree. The Appellate Court holds in its decision that Barker, the girl's father, entered into his marriage in good faith, not knowing of the existence of another husband.

When Mrs. Dorgeloh four years ago entered her daughter's name to a partition suit the other Barker heirs, nine in number, questioned the child's legitimacy, holding that Barker had not been legally married to the mother because of the existence of the first marriage of the woman.

Mrs. Dorgeloh took the matter into the courts. The case was dismissed without a decision. Another suit was started, and Judge Blackmar decided in favor of Miss Barker, but failed to clear the mother's name. So Mrs. Dorgeloh brought an action to annul her marriage to Murtha. She testified that she was "stage struck" at the time she had met the young actor, and had become his wife on the belief that a marriage certificate would aid her in securing a position on the stage. Although the ceremony had been performed by a clergyman, she said she had never considered the marriage as anything but a mock affair. Murtha corroborated her testimony, and the annulment was granted.

This year, another action was necessary—an action to have Barker declared the legal father of the girl claimant. This was the suit that has just been decided.

NO LAW BOOKS FOR COUNTY JUSTICES

Supervisors Hold Up Bill for Codes, and Judges Wait.

Holding that a justice's court is not a county office, under the rulings of the state courts, the Board of Supervisors this morning refused to permit the purchase of books on law codes for such courts out of county funds. Mind word from the District Attorney's office will decide the question. If the county will not purchase the codes, there is a grave question, according to Assistant District Attorney T. P. Wittschcn, as to where justices of the peace will get their legal authorities unless they buy them.

The matter came up on a request of a requisition of Justice Ralph Richmond of Washington Township for a set of codes, to cost $13.

"This is a matter the county is not concerned with," declared Supervisor J. J. Murphy. "I understand that the courts have ruled that justice courts are not county offices, and I do not see where we can appreciate this money."

"In this case the judges is asking for codes that I hardly think he needs," said Wittschcn. "I cannot answer off hand whether the Board may furnish these books or not, and I do not know where they would come from otherwise. They are needed in the justice courts from time to time—but this particular set, but the codes in some form."

The matter was held up pending a report from Wittschcn.

A bill, filed by A. H. Clark, who had done I. R. Wilson's work as janitor at the county jail since Wilson's death, was also held up. Murphy asked who had appointed the janitor and no member of the Board claimed the appointment. This matter was referred to the District Attorney's office. "The man seems to have stepped in and done the work without being asked," said Mayor. "No one seems to have appointed him."

"If he can prove service rendered you can pay him," said Wittschcn. The wage claim is for $15. He suggested letting the claim be paid in Wilson's name until a regular appointment could be made.

"There is a law against a county paying wages to a dead man, or anyone voting for him," said Wittschcn. The District Attorney's office will seek a means by which Clark can collect.

The city of Alameda applied for $1200 to hold a Fourth of July celebration. On motion of Supervisor Joseph M. Kelley it was decided to put the bill to the voters, but he did not get the necessary majority.

Plans were ordered for a concert parking station in the rear of the court house, the old station being replaced by the new court house wing. The matter was taken under advisement pending a report from the county surveyor.

HORN HERET HARDLY!

CHICAGO, April 20.—Yuen Poon told Federal Judge Anderson today that his father and mother resided in China and had never visited the United States, but explained that he was born in San Francisco.

"That's enough of your story," said the judge. "You are ordered deported."
